The Velveteen Rabbit

"What is Real?" asked the Rabbit one day, when they were lying side by side near the nursery fender, before Nana came to tidy the room. "Does it mean having things that buzz inside you and a stick-out handle?"

"Real isn't how you are made," said the Skin Horse. "It's a thing that happens to you. When a child loves you for a long, long time, not just to play with, but REALLY loves you, then you're Real."

"Does it hurt?" asked the Rabbit.

'Sometimes', said the Skin Horse, for he was always truthful. "When you are REAL you don't mind being hurt.'

'Does it happen all at once, like being wound up", he asked, "or bit by bit?'

"It doesn't happen all at once", said the Skin Horse. "You become. It takes a long time, that's why it doesn't often happen to people who break easily, or have sharp edges, or who have to be carefully kept Generally, by the time you are REAL, most of your hair has been loved off, and your eyes drop out and you get loose in the joints and very shabby."

'But these things don't matter at all, because once you are REAL you can't be ugly, except to people who don't understand'

A sepia-toned photograph of a landscape. In the foreground, there are several trees with bare branches, possibly willows, standing in a body of water. The middle ground shows rolling hills or a field. The background is a hazy, distant landscape under a cloudy sky. The overall tone is nostalgic and serene.
